MAY OVERTURN THE GRECIAN GOVERNMENT

Ex-Premier Rains Today gave Out a Remarkable Interview

Athens, Oct. 30.—Ex-Premier Rains in an interview today predicted the overthrow of the government and the entrance into office of the Military League as a result of the revolt of naval officers over the question of promotions in the navy. He did not think, however, that any changes coming as a result of the mutiny would affect King George.

Following an engagement between battleships of the royal fleet and torpedo boats under command of the rebelling officers off Salamis the loyal fleet is cruising off Piraeus to prevent any attempt at landing or any attack on the town, and also to close the Salamis Straits.

It is rumored that the torpedo boat flotilla under command of the mutineers has gone toward the island of Crete.

The latest information this afternoon shows that in the engagement off Salamis, where 2,000 years ago Themistocles drove back the Persians two men of the royal fleet were wounded, one of the torpedo boats of the rebels was disabled and another put to flight. The losses to the mutineers in dead and wounded, is not known.

Allies remains quiet, but much suppressed excitement prevails. An official statement has been issued that the arsenal, which was in the hands of the rebels, has been recaptured, and that the mutinous torpedo boats are expected to surrender.

Meanwhile the position of the rebel fleet resembles that of the Russian battleship Knaiz Potemkin, which mutinied in 1905 and fired on Odessa and then roamed the Black Sea for several weeks, and the government is apprehensive as to where it next will hear of them.

PACIFIC FLEET IN MANILA

Manila, Oct. 30.—The United States Pacific fleet arrived at three o'clock this afternoon, two days ahead of schedule from San Francisco and Seattle.

RIOTING IN KOREA

Seoul, Korea, Oct. 30.—The Union station here of the Seoul-Rusan railroad was attacked by 300 rioters at midnight and partly burned. The rioters were dispersed, but gathered again and are said to be moving northward. No casualties have been reported.

The garrison has been ordered out to quell the disturbance.

Hallowe'en parties were held in all the lower grade schools on Friday afternoon.

The senior class of Traip Academy Hall on Friday evening, only will give an entertainment in November 12. A farce entitled "The Living Magazine" will be produced and a candy sale will follow. It has been decided to postpone the presentation of the drama "The Rebel" until the middle of December.

In the lower harbor is the five masted schooner Dorothy B. Barrett, one of the two sailing craft in the world equipped with wireless telegraph, extended between the jigger and the graphy. The apparatus originally spanner topmasts, but since his last visit here, Capt. George Erwin has extended it forward as far as the mainmast.

Miss Gladys Seavey's dancing school opened this afternoon in Grange Hall, not Friday as inadvertently stated.

A rehearsal of the Kittery Choral Union was held Friday evening.

St. Asaph's Tribe of Red Men met Friday evening in Grange hall.

Miss Ruth Bartlett, who was recently brought from the Cottage hospital to the home of her father, Mr. Charles Bartlett of Government street, continues to improve from her operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Hattie Wentworth of Wentworth street has returned from a visit in Somerville, Mass.

Miss Luella Smith of Williams avenue is visiting at Rockingham Junction, N. H.

Roy Blaney of Portsmouth, formerly of this town, has been taken to the Maine General hospital, suffering from blood poisoning.

Edward Shapleigh of New Hampshire college is passing the week end with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Edward E. Shapleigh of Wentworth street.

Mrs. Ida Manson of Echo street has been called to North Hampton, N. H., by the illness of a relative.

Walter B. Donnell of Lynn is in town to pass Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Donnell of Central street.

The space recently gained by the narrowing of the Badger Island landing of the Atlantic Shore Line has been utilized for the storage of bunker coal for the steamer Alice Howard.

The Pine Hill Whist club will meet Monday evening with Mrs. Thomas Morrow.

Death of O. B. Hanacom.

Orlando Badger Hanacom died this forenoon at his home in the Dr. Johnson house on Government street. He was a native of Eliot, having been born in 1849 at Kennard's corner. He was many years a teamster at the navy yard, had worked at Collo's livery stable and other places about town, and in recent years had driven a fish cart. He lived in York several years, moving back to Kittery this fall. He was stricken with rheumatism of the heart two weeks ago while peddling fish near Eliot depot, and it was with difficulty that he got home. The end had been daily expected.

He is survived by his wife.

Kittery Point

Kittery Point correspondent's telephone 297-5.

Apothecary Charles Perry, U. S. N., son of Mrs. Susan Perry of this town, has been ordered detached from Brooklyn navy yard, where he has been stationed for some years, and will be sent to the local yard, arriving at his new station some time in December. This is pleasing news to his many friends here.

The schooner Rebecca M. Wallis finished discharging coal for the Atlantic Shore Line at Catts wharf this morning and will sail for Rockland, where repairs to her windlass will be made. From there she goes to Stonington to load granite for New York.

Hiram Tobey, Sr., who is passing the winter with relatives in North Hampton, N. H., was a visitor in town on Friday.

John Lewis, who has been sojourning in York for some time past, has returned to town.

Mrs. Ellen A. Billings left today for Portland, where she will pass the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Pole.

Mrs. Fred Gill, who has been visiting her son Fred Pike, has left for South Brookfield, N. S.

Miss Alice Grace, who has been very ill, is reported as better.

Ralph P. Cobb has concluded his duties with the Atlantic Shore Line.

Two yachts were in the harbor Friday, a very unusual happening at this season.

A Hallowe'en party was enjoyed Friday afternoon in Miss Florence Haff's room at the Horace Mitchell school. The room was darkened and then illuminated with Japanese lanterns, after which games were played and refreshments partaken of. The occasion was a very pleasant one.

The Hallowe'en dances of the Kittery Point Volunteer Firemen's Association will be held Monday evening in Frisbee's Hall. Music will be furnished by Hoyt and Parker's orchestra. It is hoped that all will respond in this commendable cause and make this affair as successful as the first.

George H. Terry, Charles P. Hussey and Henry A. Marden will leave on Monday for a gunning trip to Bingham, Me.

BIG FIRE AT ST. JOHNSBURY

St. Johnsbury, Vt., Oct. 30.—Fire started in the restaurant of C. E. Stoleker and Son this morning and totally destroyed the four-story brick structure occupied as general office building. The loss exceeds $25,000.

WIFE SLAYER'S BODY

Brainree, Mass., Oct. 30.—The body of James B. Miller of South Brainree, who fled after killing his wife, was found this morning in the woods about five miles out of the city.

Be a reader of the Herald and you are sure to be posted.

MOODY GOES TO HOSPITAL

Haverhill, Mass., Oct. 30.—Justice Moody left for Boston this morning in an automobile. He will enter a hospital for ten days, and then leave for Washington.

CHILD AND MAN

Two People Burned at Sanford on Friday

Sanford, Me., Oct. 30.—Sparks from a fireplace about which she was playing alone set fire on Friday to the clothing of Alice, the five year old child of William Edgerly at Springvale village and she was burned terribly that her recovery is considered improbable. All the clothing was burned from the body when Mrs. Edgerly heard the little one's cries and rushed into the room.

Later in the day an unusual spectacle was presented in Central Square in the heart of this town when Fred Flint, a restaurant proprietor, jumped from his carriage and almost immediately his clothing burst into flames. His overcoat, jacket and vest were on fire. These were quickly removed and a robe wrapped about his body quenched the remaining flames. He was not dangerously burned. A box of matches had become ignited in one of his pockets.

THIRD BURGLARY

Within Two Weeks at a Portsmouth Business House

A bunch of burglars, at present making Portsmouth their headquarters, sent a delegation on Friday night to the tailor shop of Thomas Sanford on Daniel street, where they helped themselves to three overcoats and a valuable umbrella.

This job of getting in was not as hard as the two previous breaks; in fact, it was dead easy. The proprietor in closing up the shop on Friday night, left open a window in the alley off Daniel street, in order to kill the flies during the night.

The prowler had very little work in gaining entrance, and left the place in the same manner as they entered. The umbrella and two of the garments were the property of other people while the third coat belonged to Mr. Sanford.

This makes the third robbery within two weeks in the business section of the city.

RIDE TO THE BEACHES

On a Ticket Book Instead of a Through Check

Beginning January 1 the Portsmouth electric street railway will discontinue the method of issuing through checks on the main line to Tye.

In place of this the company is to issue 20-ride books, good for any part of the system, which can be used by anybody who desires transportation.

This book will be sold for $1.00, the regular rate, and will be on sale at the office on Congress street, or it can be purchased from the conductors. Thus the company goes back to the old plan of collecting at each fare limit.

This issue of books will certainly meet with much appreciation as the use of the same is not confined to the purchaser, and his family as anybody else can make use of it at all times.

A book in possession of a passenger will come in handy and save the work of digging for a nickel every now and then on a through trip to the beaches.

IT'S SUMMER WITH THEM STILL

The gun for straw hats was fired in September but it's certain that a resident of York, Me., who appeared on Market street on Friday wearing a sky piece of this variety is waiting for the second shot from the gun.

Owners Move into New Home at Kennard's Corner

Eliot, Me., Oct. 30.—Francis Dixon comes home today from Dorchester, Mass., to pass the Sabbath with his parents, Deacon and Mrs. Wallace E. Dixon. On his return he will be accompanied by his grandmother, Mrs. G. A. Ham of Dorchester, who has been spending a fortnight here.

Elder George W. Brown is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Mark Thornton in East Boston. The Sunday services at the South Eliot Adventist church will be conducted by Elder Goodwin of Kennebunk.

Hallowe'en parties will be numerous tonight.

Fred Wilson has moved from Goodwin road to his cozy new house on the east side of State road at Kennard's corner.

The hills to the north and north-west in Stratford and York counties, twenty to thirty miles away, glow in the bright sunlight with coatings of snow. It is understood that on the recent equally days, a little snow fell back in the country away from the melting effect of the salt air.

Joseph King is about through with brick yard work for this year. He will conduct a lumbering operation in the province of Quebec during the coming winter.

Eliot High 20, Traip Academy 0

The initial game of the Eliot High school, was played with Traip Academy, of Kittery on Friday afternoon at the L. F. L. grounds next the Congregational church. For the first attempt they played clean, snappy football. Traip was outclassed from the start, and was often forced to punt. Hubbard played a good game for Traip. For the High school the whole backfield played exceedingly well. The feature of the game was Tondraut's 40 yard run for a touch-down.

The line-up and summary:

Eliot High	Traip Academy
Welch	Hubbard
Lord	Brickett
York	Brickett
H. Nelson	Brickett
Shapleigh	H. Chick
Criss	Nelson
Moulton	Brickett
Worster	Brickett
Tondraut	Hubbard
S. Nelson	Hubbard

AGED NINETY-NINE

The Death of Mrs. Mary J. Johnson at North Berwick

Sanford, Me., Oct. 30.—Mrs. Mary J. Johnson, the oldest woman in this part of the state, died from pneumonia on Friday at the home of her granddaughter, Miss Myrtle Phillips of North Berwick, near the Sanford line.

She was born Feb. 27, 1810, and early in life was married to James M. Phillips. Four children were born to them, one of whom, James M. Phillips of Sanford, survives her.

Mr. Phillips died in 1849 and she was married again in 1851 to Johnathan Johnson of South Sanford, who died many years ago. She enjoyed excellent health until recently.

A THING OF RARE BEAUTY

Deputy Sheriff Shaw has it at the County Jail.

Keeper W. B. Shaw at the county jail has on exhibition at his residence one of the most beautiful specimens of handwork that can be found in a day's travel.

It is a parlor ornament, known as an air castle, made entirely of strips of white cotton cloth, fancy yarn and a few wire rings.

The work is that of an inmate by the name of Lawry, and is something of rare beauty for the eye to gaze upon.

READY FOR THE BIG CONVENTION

New Orleans, Oct. 30.—The time touches on the preparations for the big waterways convention, which opens here today with President Taft and a score of senators, hundreds of congressmen, 33 governors and 100 delegates, were completed last night.

Motives, some old, at least one new are soon everywhere. The slogan of the deep waterway advocates was "Fourteen feet through the valley." The new one, which was born over night, and which faces the visitor at every available spot in the city this morning, says: "Dig her deep through Dixie."

Some of the delegates, who are uncompromising advocates of the 14-foot channel are not pleased with the new war cry and do not hesitate to declare that it is a confession of surrender.

Delegates are pouring into the city on every train and the hotel lobbies and streets are taking on a carnival time appearance.

GREENLAND

Mrs. John L. Seaver returned from Concord on Wednesday, making the trip with her cousin, General Street, in his automobile, who was en route for Portsmouth.

On Tuesday Mrs. Seaver gave a report of the State missionary meeting at Concord before the missionary society of the North Congregational church at its parish house in Portsmouth.

Mr. White, of Massachusetts, was a guest at Mr. and Mrs. Irving Watson's over the Sabbath.

Mrs. Lillian Young of Cambridge Mass., is visiting relatives in town for a week or more.

The local Christian Endeavor Society will celebrate its 20th anniversary at the Congregational church on Sunday afternoon beginning at three o'clock. An excellent programme has been prepared and any person interested to be present will be cordially welcomed.

Miss Ethel Fess, of Dover, has been for a few days a guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Porter Weeks. She returned to her home on Tuesday.

The pew in the Methodist Episcopal church, formerly owned by Miss Harriet Pearson, has been sold within a few weeks to L. D. Dorrity. It does not seem so very long ago that Miss Harriet and her brother Moses were seated there every Sabbath, for the were very constant in their attendance upon church services.

The annual harvest supper of the Ladies' Aid society was held on Wednesday evening at the town hall.

The Holmes brothers are having a fresh coat of paint put on their buildings.

The furnaces at the Congregational church are completed and the house was well warmed last Sunday.

Miss Mildred Elizabeth Mahoney, attained her sixteenth birthday on Saturday, Oct. 23. In recognition of the happy event her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mahoney, have an entertainment at their residence, in which 25 of her young friends participated with great pleasure. The most of the guests were schoolmates of the fair young maiden at the Portsmouth high school.

COMMANDER BLUE

Assigned to the Command of the Gunboat Yorktown

Washington, Oct. 30.—His first important command was given to Lieutenant Commander Victor Blue on Friday when the navy department assigned him to the gunboat Yorktown Commander Blue was born in and a promotion by finding the Spanish fleet in Santiago harbor during the first information in regard to its location in the American fleet.

For some time Commander Blue has been the executive officer of the North Carolina. Lieutenant Commander E. H. Schofield has been assigned to the North Carolina as its new executive officer.

NEW HAMPSHIRE MEN

Who Won Honors at New England Fruit Show in Boston

Boston, Oct. 28.—The three stars of the New England fruit show of last week were all from New Hampshire.

Prof. E. Dwight Sanderson of Durham, vice president of the New Hampshire Pomological society, who first suggested the New England fruit show, is being showered with congratulations, as the exhibit was a success, and big horticultural hall was crowded day and night. It was opened on "Apple Tuesday," and has proved to Boston that Yankee land can supply the market with fruit.

E. N. Sawyer of Salisbury was the most jubilant of the exhibitors, as he took a long string of prizes, but he says that the judges had a difficult time in deciding between his barrel of Baldwin's and that of a man from Rhode Island, every apple in the two barrels being taken out and examined carefully. This gave him $27 but he also took $29 for the best box of Baldwin's, and he also got the grand sweepstake prize of $100 for the best barrel of apples of any variety in the show and $75 for the best box of the same.

Another Granite state man who won over all was John E. Moore of Joscavon, who with his Rhode Island greenings, beat even the apple growers from Little Rhode, where his apple originated. He won three sizes, all that was offered on greenings. The best barrel, best plate and the best box of greenings grown in New Hampshire.

NEWMARKET

Levi Knishton of this town died at a county hospital at Brentwood on Wednesday night of heart disease. He was taken there on a few days ago. He was about 55 years of age.

The Woman's club held a white party at John Webster hall Tuesday evening. Five tables were in play and prizes were won as follows: First, Mrs. R. E. Graves, Charles A. O'Connor; consolation prizes, Mrs. Sarah Woodman, Miss Cassell (Dr.) who took gentleman's place.)

Patience Grange will hold a Harvest party at the town hall, Newmarket, this Saturday evening. The programme of vocal and instrumental music, readings, recitation, etc., has been arranged. There will also be dancing and a fine supper served.

The exterior of the new parochial school building is approaching completion.

Mrs. W. W. Bride of Lynn visited her brother, John A. Laughey, he past few days.

L. O. Simard, clothier, will occupy the new fitted up store next to the new bank building. The show window has the largest plate glass of any in town.

The art needle work department of the Woman's club have secured Mrs. John T. McCarthy of Dover as instructor.

Stimulus Brothers have completed the concrete work on the new addition to the mills, and the exterior of the building is about finished.

There will be a whist party and dance, for the benefit of St. Mary's church, at Foresters' Hall, Wednesday evening, Nov. 3.

Mrs. Nellie Wightman and Miss Anne Flaherty, who have spent the summer at Hampton Beach, have returned home.

A brass plate, inscribed "Newmarket National Bank," has been placed at the entrance to the bank on the new bank building.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Miss Maxine Elliott, just before the final curtain of "The Chaperon" at the Garrick theatre on Thursday, slipped and seriously injured her ankle that she will be unable to appear before next Monday at the earliest and the theatre will be closed.

Miss Elliott fainted from the pain her legions were summoned and she was hastened to her hotel. An x-ray examination will be made to determine whether an ankle bone is broken. The ankle was so swollen that a thorough diagnosis was impossible.

London, Oct. 29.—A score of miners were killed by an explosion in the Glamorgan colliery in Glamorgan, the most southwestern county of Wales, today. Many men were killed and two companions who attempted a rescue, were themselves overcome by the aftermath of the explosion.

Newmarket, Oct. 28.—King Edward presented Danny Mahony, the American jockey, with a beautiful silver trophy in recognition of his jockey's success in winning the Hampshire sweepstake Thursday with his majestic Minerva. The trophy is a silver cup of 1000 ounces, for 3-year-olds and upwards, was won by Louis Winans of Martin. Pauline Don was second and Tommy Day third. Nine horses ran.

New Orleans, Oct. 28.—Half of New Orleans is drinking the Taft cocktail and the other half is waiting for the white-aproned bartenders to mix them. In New Orleans it has been the custom for ages to improve a new drink and name it after distinguished citizens or visitors. Thus in New Orleans was born the Martini, the Beecham, the Sarah Bernhard and the Ramon fizz.

But the Taft cocktail, its proud creator claims, is superior to them all in favor bouquet and cooling effects. And he ought to know, for he is the originator of the fizz. The Taft cocktail is built after the manner of the creole cocktail, but it has some trimmings. A mixture of lime and lemon juice is prepared, the lime glass, after being led, is dipped in this mixture and frosted to confectioner's sugar.

Theatrical Topics of the Day.

The Story of "The Thief"

A woman of youth and beauty, but comparatively humble station, allows herself to fall in love with a brilliant man of the world whom she considers much above her. She worships him as something unattainable, and is dazed when he loves her in return and makes her his wife. Her love is adoration, but she is haunted with the fear that she will lose his love. She reasons that she must equal in beauty and delicacy of nature the women with whom he has been familiar, if she is to avoid him. His income and her allowance do not permit competition in this respect, and in her panic of fear lest her happiness be wrecked, she recklessly contracts great debts with milliners and dress makers, giving little thought to the day of reckoning. But traced at her home on High street she was stricken with a sudden illness and died within fifteen minutes.

Mrs. Conklin was a native of Flymouth, Mass., and was married to Rev. Mr. Conklin less than two years ago, during his pastorate in Flymouth. She was about twenty-three years of age. On Thursday the couple moved their household effects from Broadway street to High street and the exertion of moving is believed by many to have brought about the hemorrhage.

Mrs. Conklin was a valued worker in the local church. Rev. and Mrs. Conklin came here from Nashua.

RELIEVED FROM ACTIVE DUTY

Washington, Oct. 30.—In the detachment on Friday of Rear Admiral

he day remorselessly approaches and exposure threatens as husband and wife are visiting rich friends. The friend and hostess carelessly brows into a bureau drawer money sufficient to satisfy clamorous creditors. The tortured wife yields to temptation.

Then comes the first complication. A youth, son of her husband's friend, is infatuated with her. Jealousy makes her smile on him, but she rebukes his declaration of love and refuses to read his letters. A detective has been summoned as a guest to the house to fathom the mystery of the stolen money. The youth is seen in the boudoir from which the money has been taken. He has been there to lay his love letters beneath the pillow of the woman he loves. The detective is called on for his report and he presents a seemingly conclusive case of circumstantial evidence against the boy. The guilty woman, in panic, and grasping at straws, goes to seek him and appeals to him in the name of his love for her to save her. He consents.

After this basis is laid in the first act the author develops a remarkable scene between the guilty woman and her husband.

Broadening over the sorrow that has come to his friend, certain anomalies in the boy's story comes to him. Playfully remembering his wife's chief fault, he finds a purse with money—more money than she has any right to have. In a painful scene he forces confession of guilt of theft and jealousy carries him to accusation of faithlessness.

"I, too, have been unfaithful," he cries bitterly. The third and final act takes place the next morning, when the youth has been summoned to hear a decree of banishment to South America, which means probable death. The guilty wife and her husband as long-time friends of the family, are requested to be present. The woman would escape the scene, but the husband grimly forces her to remain. The boy cries out in agony against his punishment. In a scene of heart-breaking pathos he finally rushes out in obedience to his father's command.

Then the guilty woman confesses. This powerful drama may be seen at Music Hall next Wednesday.

MRS. CONKLIN DEAD

Wife of a Minister Well Known in New Hampshire

North Attleboro, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Hazen Conklin, wife of Rev. Hazen Conklin, of the First Universalist church, died suddenly on Friday at at H. N. Manney from his position in charge of the naval coaling station at San Diego, Calif., another retired rear admiral is relieved from active duty.

APPLE MAGGOT UNDER INVESTIGATION

Reports from various parts of New Hampshire indicate that injury from the apple maggot or railroad worm is on the increase. This is a small whitish maggot that tunnels here and there through the pulp of the apple. It should not be confused with the codling moth larva which enters the fruit of the blossom end, feeds around the core and is a large worm with a brown head.

Injury by the apple maggot is most severe on Bartlett and other summer apples, but also occurs on fall and winter sorts. In most cases the surface of the apple is pitted, and the entire fruit may become gnarled and distorted. The pulp shows small brown lines or tunnels here and there.

The New Hampshire State Experiment Station is now conducting a series of experiments designed to find some means of control for this insect pest. It is believed that a thorough study of the insect combined with the practical test of various means of control will reveal some method of preventing this injury. Some fruit growers have found that turning live stock into the orchard tends to reduce the amount of injury and one reports good results from giving chickens the run of the orchard.

The Experiment Station is very anxious to get into communication with all who have had any experience with this insect. It is desired to secure information on the following points:

What varieties of apples are most often attacked?

What varieties are free from attack?

Is the maggot now infesting varieties in your neighborhood that were formerly uninfested?

Have you ever tried keeping the fallen fruit picked up and if so did you secure and benefit from this practice?

Have you ever tried turning in live stock?

To run notice any less injury from the maggot where an orchard is kept cultivated?

Any other points that have been observed by fruit growers will be of great assistance to the station in mapping out work. It is especially desired that this information should be sent to them as soon as possible. Address all letters to E. H. Anderson, or to W. C. O'Kane, Experiment Station, Durham, N. H.

A PLEA FOR THE FISH

Save the Little Trout in the State of New Hampshire

Concord, Oct. 30.—The board of New Hampshire fish and game commissioners is sending out the following plea for the fish, by G. H. Thompson, fish culturist and superintendent of the Petes park fish hatchery, Colorado:

"When removing an undersized trout from your hook, always moisten your hand before grasping the fish; otherwise the dry hand will remove the slime from the back of the trout, when it is only a question of time when fungus sets in and the fish will die.

"Always kill your fish that are large enough to keep as soon as taken from the hook. This can be done by giving it a stroke with a stick on the head, back of the eyes. It will avoid all suffering and make your fish better for table use."

The American Fisheries society at Washington, D. C., Sept. 24-25, 1908, recommended that the various state

FIRE AT LONDONDERRY

Valuable Set of Buildings Was Burned to the Ground

Derry, Oct. 30.—The dwelling house of Jacob S. Chase, situated just across the Londonderry line, was totally destroyed by fire at 8.30 o'clock on Friday.

A barn situated near the house was saved, but the fire communicated from the burning building to the woodland near, and at last accounts had not been controlled.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Mrs. Chase had been about the in the afternoon, leaving about four o'clock.

The fire had gain such headway when discovered that Mr. Chase was unable to save anything from the building.

The loss is about $3000, with an insurance of $1200.

GREATEST NAVAL GUN YET

Washington, Oct. 30.—The biggest and most powerful naval weapon yet constructed will be received at the Washington Naval Arsenal next week for completion. It is the new 14-inch breech loading rifle being built by the Midvale Steel Company. When finished the gun will be tested at the proving grounds at Indian Head, Md.

The gun will weigh 63,566 pounds. Its length will be nearly 53½ feet. The chamber will be double the size of a sugar barrel. In this compartment will be placed the charge of 365 pounds of smokeless powder required to discharge the 1,400-pound projectile.

The new rifle will have an extreme theoretical range of more than twenty five miles. The shell will leave the muzzle at the rate of 2,000 feet a second, and the projectile will penetrate 18.7 inches of the latest Krupp steel armor at 3,000 yards.

HER MISTAKE REVEALED SUIT

Mrs. Astor Did Not Use
Lawyer's Rear Entrance

OFFICES CHANGED ABOUT

Had Been Planned That Even Clerks
Employed by Referee Would Not Know What Was Going On—Leader of Four Hundred Sues For Absolute
Divorce, Which It Is Said, Will Be Granted

New York, Oct. 30.—Some of the details of the suit for absolute divorce brought by Mrs. Alva W. Astor against Colonel John J. Astor have become known, in spite of the secrecy surrounding the action. It has become known definitely that servants of the Astor home and on the Astor yacht, accuse the multi-millionaire and named the woman mentioned by Mrs. Astor in the suit.

The attempt to maintain absolute secrecy by all those concerned in the suit was even carried so far as an entire rearrangement of the law offices of Charles H. Young, the referee, at No. 76 William street. They were so changed as to permit of the ingress and egress of witnesses through a rear entrance without being seen by the clerks of the office.

Mrs. Astor herself was the chief witness. She testified last Thursday afternoon and Friday morning, and it was only through a mistake of hers in not using the new rear entrance provided that the employees in the Young law office knew what was going on.

Mrs. Astor used the usual entrance and presented her card to one of the attaches. She was announced, but was quickly passed into the private offices of Young. There she took the witness stand, but she was questioned only briefly by either her own counsel, John L. Cadwallader, or Lewis C. Ledyard, counsel for Colonel Astor.

Mrs. Astor was called a second time the following morning, and on that occasion she used the secret entrance. It is said that the second time she answered questions in regard to facts which had been brought out after her first testimony, through stories told by various servants called.

All the other witnesses testified on Thursday and Friday. Three of these other witnesses were women and two of them men. One of the women was a maid at the Astor residence on Fifth avenue and the two others were servants in an uptown apartment house, where, it is said, the woman in the case lived. One of the men called was a servant on the Astor yacht, Nourmahal.

It is understood that the custody of the Astor children will be equally divided between husband and wife, the girl, Mariel Alva Alice, to go to the mother, and the boy, Vincent, to remain with the father.

It is also understood that a generous settlement will be provided, but that this will not include either the Fifth avenue mansion or the Rhinebeck estate. It was stated that Mrs. Astor would probably live abroad after the decree had been granted.

It is learned that Mrs. Astor, taking advantage of her residence at Rhinebeck, brought her suit in Dutchess county, and that Referee Young will file his final papers at Poughkeepsie within a few days, recommending that a decree be granted.

It is settled positively, too, that the suit was for absolute divorce, and not for a separation, as some have supposed.

RECEIVER FOR ADAMS

Creditors Object to Assignee Administering Estate of Broker

Boston, Oct. 30.—Judge Dodge in the United States district court appointed Jeremiah Smith, Jr., receiver for Almond D. F. Adams, whose stock and collateral loan broker who was petitioned into bankruptcy by creditors, following a general assignment to Clarence W. Rowley.

The court was inclined to permit the assignee to administer the affairs of the estate until objection was made by a number of creditors, on the ground that he was too closely identified with Adams, the relation being that of counsel and client.

Rowley informed the court that he had practically no assets in his possession.

ALBINO DEER IN VERMONT

Hunter Brings Down a Buck That Is a Freak of Nature

Brattleboro, Vt., Oct. 30.—One of the greatest prizes ever captured by a Vermont hunter was brought down by Howard A. Johnson of this place when he killed an albino buck deer, the goal of many a local hunter.

The deer measures a little over six feet in length and weighs about 150 pounds. The animal is about three years old and carries a well-developed pair of antlers. With the exception of a few tawny spots, the deer is pure white and its eyes have a peculiar reddish tinge. It is a beautiful specimen of the American deer with long fur and bushy tail. The albino was killed about five miles from the center of the village of Brattleboro.

So far as is known, there is but one other white deer in existence, and that is a pure white doe now mounted and placed in the state house at Montpelier. This is the first white buck ever killed in this state.

HELD BY PARIS POLICE

"Count" and "Countess" Are Charged With Swindling Tradesmen

Paris, Oct. 30.—The chief charge against "Count" and "Countess" DeGubatta, who were arrested here for swindling tradesmen, is obtaining a pearl necklace under false pretenses. The "countess" ordered it ostensibly as a present for a lady belonging to the Austrian court. It has been traced to a jeweler who bought it for 4000 francs.

The "count" is an Austrian. The maiden name of the "countess" was Sylvia Thomsen, and she claims to have been born in New York, where she married Oscar Pon Beck, who was father of her children. He died and she subsequently married "Count DeGubatta," who declares that he is really Archduke Karl Heinrich of Austria, but this is denied.

FOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE WORLD

Jeffries and Johnson Reach
Agreement to Fight

New York, Oct. 30.—After a conference lasting three hours James Jeffries and Jack Johnson agreed to fight forty-five rounds or more to decide the heavyweight championship of the world. Articles of agreement to this effect were signed by both principals, who were present at the session.

The battle is to take place not later than July 5 next year and will be held before the club donating the best purse. A side bet of $10,000 is to hinge on the outcome, each side agreeing to wager $5000. Five thousand dollars was also posted by each pugilist, as a guarantee of good faith, with Robert Murphy, proprietor of Hotel Albany, where the meeting was held. Murphy was selected as temporary stake and forfeit holder. The referee will be selected later. The purse is to be divided, 75 percent to the winner and 25 percent to the loser.

Johnson made a fine impression with the crowd by his willingness to concede everything. When Jeffries proposed $20,000 side bet he agreed, but his manager called it off, saying Jeffries would probably be favorite and that they could get odds for their money on the day of the battle.

ASHTON PAID GUIDES

Barrill and Printz Received About $200 For Traveling Expenses

Washington, Oct. 30.—"Edward N. Barrill does not fear Dr. Frederick A. Cook, nor does he fear legal trouble with him. He has retained me as counsel in case Cook makes any false charges against him."

This was the statement James M. Ashton, a lawyer of Tacoma, who recently examined Barrill and others in connection with their expedition with Cook to Mt. McKinley. Ashton admitted that he paid Barrill and Fred Printz in the neighborhood of $200 to compensate them for their traveling expenses from their homes to Tacoma and back.

Ashton received a telegram some time ago from Thomas H. Hubbard of the Peary Arctic club requesting him to find the guides and to examine them thoroughly.

NAVY MUTINY SHAKES GREECE

Revolt Started by Typaldos and Three Hundred Men

IS DECLARED A TRAITOR

Lieutenant Who Commanded Flotilla of Torpedo Boats and Submarines
Demanded That He Be Appointed
Minister of Marine—Big Warships
Loyal to Government and Join in Sharp Attack on Mutineers

Athens, Oct. 30.—An actual revolt in the navy has taken place and the situation is acute. The band of naval officers which on Wednesday quitted the capital and withdrew to Salamis, an island ten miles to the west, yesterday seized the arsenal there. They met no opposition. The rebels are led by Lieutenant Typaldos, and are reported to number 300 men. The government has proclaimed Typaldos a traitor and ordered his arrest by the military.

Lieutenant Typaldos, who heads the revolt, is the commander of a flotilla of torpedo boats and submarines. It appears that he demands that he be appointed minister of marine. He threatens if the appointment is not made that he will overthrow the government and establish a dictatorship. Meanwhile an element in the Military league which is opposed to the revolt issued a proclamation denouncing Typaldos as a traitor who broke his oath to the league.

A regiment of infantry and a battery of field guns were sent to Skaramanga, on the coast a few miles west of Athens and opposite Leris, the point on the island of Salamis where Typaldos' men are entrenched.

There was a sharp little fight at Salamis yesterday afternoon, which, as the big warships remained loyal and joined in the attack on the mutineers, ended in the discomfiture of Typaldos. At 4 o'clock a field artillery opened fire from the heights of Skaramanga on the torpedo boats in the harbor. The latter replied, whereupon the large warships took a hand against the rebels.

There was a sharp exchange of shells, and for a time matters were very lively. The arsenal building was hit and the new torpedo boat destroyer Styphendone, being struck by shells, was immediately hidden by a cloud of steam and smoke.

During the firing three of the torpedo boats gradually withdrew from action stern first, and twenty minutes after the first shot was fired all the mutineers had taken shelter behind the headland at the entrance of the harbor. Firing then stopped.

The arsenal is now in the hands of the government, which is co-operating with the Military league ashore.

There is much anxiety concerning the whereabouts of the mutinous vessels. It is supposed that they have left Salamis, but nobody knows whether they have gone.

The government seems to fear that Typaldos will try to execute his designs elsewhere, and sharp watch for the appearance of fugitives has been ordered.

According to one report they have gone to Crete, where, possibly, they might stir up serious trouble. Another report says they are going to Brindisi.

One of the mutineers' destroyers was disabled and driven ashore. Another fled towards Eleusis and disappeared in the darkness. It reached the naval station at Poros, but met with such a hostile reception that it had to put to sea again.

The loyal fleet is cruising off the Piræus to prevent an attempt at landing or an attack on the town. They have also closed the straits of Salamis. No torpedoes were discharged during the fight.

Typaldos seems to have no sympathizers in the army. The population of Athens is in a state of the greatest excitement, but the city is orderly.

The senate, or legislative chamber, after a noisy discussion of the mutiny, suspended its session.

CENTRAL AMERICAN STRIFE

Salvador and Nicaragua Are Preparing For a Clash of Arms

Panama, Oct. 30.—War between Salvador and the Nicaraguan government headed by Zelaya has begun. Salvador's army has been ordered mobilized by President Figueroa to repel an invasion by Nicaraguans and Salvador exiles commanded by General Alfaro. Salvador's gunboats have been ordered to patrol Nicaragua's coast.

Honduras' seizure of a ship loaded with Nicaraguan revolutionists at Puerto Cortez indicates that President Davila is for Zelaya. Costa Rica will maintain strict neutrality.

New York, Oct. 30.—Action taken at a mass meeting of the Ladies' Waist Makers' union strongly foreboding a strike of 42,000 operatives within the next few days unless the employers accede to the demands of the workers. The union is asking recognition and a 10 percent increase in wages.

MAN HUNT IS ON

Posse Beating Back Roads and Woods For Murderer of Wife

Braintree, Mass., Oct. 30.—The first clue regarding the whereabouts of James J. Miller, wanted for the murder of his wife, Ruth G. Miller, that reached the police in an all-day search placed the fugitive in the woods to the southeast of this town and making in the general direction of Plympton.

Acting on this clue, State Detective Scott, who has been directing the efforts of the entire police force of southeastern Massachusetts in an effort to find the murderer, is leading a posse today to beat about the back roads and woods from this town to Plympton. Chief Qualey of the local police force and another officer are accompanying Scott in an automobile.

A warning has been sounded by the police to persons living in that neighborhood that a close watch be kept for any signs of the murderer.

FLIGHT OF JAILBIRDS

Alleged Horse Thief and Brace of Burglars Had Outside Accomplices

Toledo, Oct. 30.—A daring and successful jail delivery, in which three prisoners made good their escape, took place at Tiffin last evening during the absence of Sheriff Reiff.

Fred Scott, indicted for horse stealing, and J. L. Landis and J. C. Taylor, indicted for burglary, were the three prisoners who gained their liberty. Outside accomplices furnished saws, files and ropes with which the prisoners easily made their escape from jail.

Just as the trio were leaving the jail yard the sheriff's wife saw them and immediately spread an alarm. A posse of officials and citizens scoured the vicinity, but failed to find any trace of the fleeing fugitives.

CANNON'S RULE NEAR THE END

Senator La Follette Makes a Sensational Attack

SPEAKER A REPUBLICAN?

If He Is, Declares the Iowan, Then
Tammany Is, Also—Cannot Gavel
His Way Through His Classification of Republicans as He Gave Through His Schemes in Congress—
Progressives Can Bide Their Time

Milwaukee, Oct. 30.—Speaker Cannon's challenge to read out of the Republican party such chaff as Cummings, La Follette and their followers, has been accepted by Senator La Follette. Notice of a willingness to enter the contest is served upon Cannon through La Follette's weekly magazine in the senator's usual style.

Senator La Follette says: "Speaker Cannon, at Elgin, Ill., on Oct. 19, served notice that he means to purge the threshing-floor of the Republican party of such chaff as Cummings, La Follette and their followers." By these terms, Cannon describes the progressives—who, of course, are followers of neither Cummings nor La Follette—but of their own unbought and unsubdued minds.

"These people," Cannon is reported to have said, "call themselves Republicans; but if they are, then I am something else."

"We hope Cannon is right. If by these remarks he means that there is an irreconcilable conflict within the party between Cannonism, on the one hand, and the principles of the progressive Republicans, on the other, he is quite right. There is such a conflict. It is a conflict between the progressives, on the one hand, and Cannon and his sort, on the other, for the control of the party that once followed Lincoln.

"It is like a contest between two interests in some great organization, the controlling faction of which, represented by Cannon, has diverted it from its original objects, and by an 'embezzlement of power' entrenched behind the 'rotting trust' of the caucus, the convention, the Cannon rules, the drilling political henchmen of special privilege, and the corrupting influence of predatory wealth, has long hid defiance to the scattered majority of the stockholders, the voters of the Republican party—feeling their way to control of their own organization through such methods as direct primaries, popular election of United States senators and corrupt practices laws.

"If Cannon is a Republican, these progressives, these undisciplined citizens are not. If Cannon is a Republican, Lincoln and Sumner, and George William Curtis, and Carl Schurz, and the men who followed Sherman and Grant, and the commanders they followed, and the founders of the Republican party, were not Republicans. Cannon may speak with truth when he declares that he has made a corrupt deal with Tammany whereby he will aid the Tiger in New York while it continues to aid him in congress in his context with the progressives, or insurgents. They may have come to his aid in the grin crisis of last congress, not because of anything he promised them, but because of the deep sympathy that exists between such men.

"For if Cannon is a Republican, Tammany is Republican, and so is Cox of Cincinnati, Sullivan, 'Bathhouse John' and 'Hinky Dink' of Chicago, and the powers that prey everywhere. They may not pass under the same names, but Cannon himself is authority for the statement that party titles are deceitful now.

"But about one thing Cannon is evidently mistaken. He cannot gavel through his classification of Republicans as he gavel through his schemes in congress. The voters of the Republican party will decide who are Republicans and who are not. There will be stockholders' meetings from time to time and tests of strength. The voting trust of Cannonism, the caucus, and the convention may finally win, and Cannon's definition of Republicanism may be set up as the correct one. We shall see.

"But we shall never believe in the identity of the party of Lincoln with the party of Cannon until the last ballot has been counted in the last contest. The progressives may well bide their time and laugh at the fulminations of the czar of the house. Their time is coming. Cannonism is merely a survival. The stars in their courses fight against it, and it is doomed.

A free, untrammelled ballot in the Republican party would strip Cannon of every vestige of power tomorrow. His pronouncements are but the snarlings of a grim old wolf who hears the beatings in the woods, and scents them closing in. He is still at large, and his fangs are long; but the days of his depredations within the sheepfolds of the people are surely numbered."

Twenty Miners Killed

London, Oct. 30.—A score of miners were killed by an explosion in the Rhymney iron company's colliery in Glamorganshire, Wales.

WOMAN AT THE HEAD

Rockefeller Hospital Will Be Under Guidance of Nancy Elliott

Baltimore, Oct. 30.—Miss Nancy P. Elliott, sister-in-law of Francis White, one of Baltimore's wealthiest citizens, and a woman of undoubted ability, will go to New York tomorrow to assume the position of superintendent of the new Rockefeller hospital. Although she has been a graduate nurse but six years, Miss Elliott has made wonderful strides and may now be said to stand at the head of her profession. She entered Johns Hopkins training school in 1900 and three years later received her diploma.

For two years after graduation she remained at the hospital, but in 1906 she was appointed superintendent of nurses at Church home and infirmary. This position she retained until March, 1908, when she was appointed superintendent.

The appointment of a woman as superintendent of the institution caused much dissension among the directors, some thinking a man should have been appointed. Miss Elliott fought her way through and served until several months ago, when she resigned. She then said she was tired of fighting men.

TOOK LIVES OF SISTERS

Life Imprisonment For Man Who Also Killed His Brother-in-Law

Kansas City, Kan., Oct. 30.—James McMahon pleaded guilty in court to the murder of his two sisters, Rosa McMahon and Mrs. Alonzo Van Royen, and his brother-in-law, Alonzo Van Royen. He was sentenced to life imprisonment.

McMahon deliberately planned the murder of his sisters and his brother-in-law because his brother favored them instead of them. He executed his planned-with coolness, firing repeatedly into the fallen victims. He was equally collected after the crime, reporting daily to the sheriff to aid in seeking the slayer. He was finally forced to a confession.

PRAYED AND WEPT WHEN HOMELESS

Fire Drives Seventeen Families Into Streets at Boston

Boston, Oct. 30.—Seventeen Polish families who lived in the three-story wood block of tenements that runs the entire length of Ellery terrace, South Boston, last evening were made homeless by a fire which was fanned by a northeast gale and for a while menaced the entire district, which is made up of wooden dwellings. No one was injured.

Few, if any of the seventy-three persons could speak English, and once in a place of safety they dropped to their knees and wept as they prayed.

In the excitement many of the children strayed from their parents. The police were kept busy preventing many mothers rushing back to the blazing building to search for their children.

The fire had its origin in a stable opposite the block of tenements.

LOST IN STOCK MARKET

Disappointed Pittsburg Millionaire Takes His Own Life by Shooting

Pittsburg, Oct. 30.—Edward Steinhäuser, a member of one of the oldest rich families of Pittsburg, supposed to be worth more than $1,000,000 in his own name, killed himself in a most tragic manner at the American House here. It is intimated by some interested in the stock market that Steinhäuser has been plunging on the market.

Steinhäuser was 38 and unmarried, and his last thoughts were for his mother, grandmother and sisters, whom he did not want thrown into a pauper by having news of his suicide phoned, nor did he wish them to see his mutilated body until it had been fixed up. He arranged for all this in letters written just before shooting himself.

Steinhäuser carefully removed his coat, vest and collar, and standing in front of a mirror blew his brains out. The shot and sound of the falling body brought help and the locked doors were battered in and the still warm body found.

Brick Shower Kills Workman

Boston, Oct. 30.—John Powell, 55, is dead, and John Wright, 60, is in a hospital, from injuries received when the top of a brick building at 24 South Russell street gave away and buried them beneath the falling bricks. Both men were employed by a contracting company which is razing buildings in the West End.

THE STATE ROADS

The Biddeford Journal publishes the following: "Civil Engineer W. T. Allen of this city has left the employ of the Hiram Paving company, of Worcester, Mass., and has accepted a position with the Maine state highway commission. Mr. Allen will start Saturday to make survey and plans of the post road from Portsmouth to Biddeford."

This paper has several times before told of the plan of the Maine authorities for connecting the different stretches of state road, town by town, and thus make a continuous trunk line of improved highway from the Kittery end of the Piscataqua bridge to Portland and beyond, and now the tale is confirmed by the actual beginning of the survey.

It is proof that New Hampshire will not be any too prompt with its state highway from Portsmouth to the White Mountains.

Both the New Hampshire road to the north and the Maine road to the east will be added inducements for automobile tourists to visit Portsmouth both going and coming.

BIRD'S EYE VIEWS

The assassination of Ito will prove a sad mistake for the Koreans.

Chicago will soon be the possessor of one of the finest hotels for Chinese in the United States if plans are carried out of South Clark street merchants here. Many visitors from China have been unable to obtain rooms at the first class hotels because of their inability to speak English and scores have been compelled to seek lodging and entertainment at the houses of their countrymen. The hotel, as planned, will be six stories and much of the work will be done by orientals. The decorations will be exclusively Chinese.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

No Politics in the Court

The death of Associate Justice Rufus W. Peckham leaves only two Democrats on the supreme bench. These are Chief Justice Fuller and Associate Justice White, both of whom were appointed by President Cleveland, as also was Justice Peckham. Justices Harlan, Brewer, McKenna, Holmes, Day and Moody were named by Republican presidents. Harlan's service dating from 1877, in the early days of President Hayes. If he serves three years longer he will break the record made by Associate Justice Stephen J. Field.

Gossip says that Mr. Taft will select a Democrat for Peckham's place. Possibly he will. Custom heretofore has confined the selection to members of the party to which the president belonged. Necessarily this has given the Republicans a predominance in the court. And, as few of the members die and none resign, this ascendancy sometimes last long after the sway of its particular party in the National government has passed. Throughout Lincoln's and Johnson's service, in the civil war era, the Democrats had a majority of the Supreme court. Chief Justice Taney, who served till 1864, gave the country the touch of Jackson's vanished hand. It was not until Grant's service that the Republicans gained the ascendancy in the nation's highest tribunal.

Happily, however, partisanship has very little sway over the individual members of the court in their attitude toward the questions of constitutional interpretation which come before them. On most of the great suits from the Slaughter House case of more than a third of a century ago onward the divisions in the court have been on other than party lines. The country is glad of this, and hopes that partisanship will continue to be dropped by members after their appointment. Necessarily republics and all sorts of representative governments of these days are shaped, in a large degree, by partisan considerations. There is one important branch, however, of the American government in which politics does not enter. All that the country asks of Mr. Taft in the selection of a successor to Justice Peckham, is that the appointee have legal ability, balance and courage. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

HARMONY CLUB

Incorporated to Carry Members to the Land of Sunshine

New York, Oct. 30.—Smile. Clear the track for the Harmony Accommodation, which runs on the road called Joy to the land of sunshine. The Harmony Club has been incorporated at Albany. It is going to grow, say the promoters, until it takes in the entire country.

The engineer of this train of kindly hearts and harmonious spirits is Edward H. Fallows a lawyer of this city and son of Bishop Fallows of the diocese of Chicago. Mr. Fallows is a happy man.

The Harmony Club has already a large membership. November 12 it will hold its first public meeting in Carnegie Lyceum. Bishop Fallows will speak.

TRAVELING MEN MET

Had a Banquet and Speeches at Concord

Concord, Oct. 30.—Nearly 300 members of the White Mountain Travelers' Association met here on Friday night for the 21st annual meeting. William Thickens of Boston was elected president and Frank Cressney of Concord secretary and treasurer.

At the banquet at the Eagle, Fred W. Southard of Manchester was toastmaster. Among the speakers were former Governor Bachelder, Senator Burnham, ex-Senator Chandler, Congressman Currier, F. L. Greene, editor of the St. Albans Messenger; George E. Leland, president of the Worcester, Mass., Commercial Travelers' Association, and Rev. Louis H. Buckhorn of Concord. The lotus quartette of Boston and New York orchestra assisted.

TRUTH ABOUT CATARRH

Sensible Methods Will Cure It. Goodwin E. Philbrick Guarantees Hyomei to Cure Catarrh

Catarrh can never be cured by taking medicines into the stomach nor by sprays, atomizers or douches.

Intelligent physicians have long ago discarded such ideas and not one of them would be worth consideration were it not for the fact that unscrupulous persons prey upon the ignorance of the people in regard to new discoveries.

Catarrh is caused by germs and just as long as these germs thrive in the folds, crevices, nooks and corners of the mucous membrane that line the nose, throat and chest, just so long will you have catarrh. There is only one way to cure catarrh, and that is to kill the germs. There is only one remedy that will kill the germs when it gets where the germs are, and that is Hyomei.

Hyomei is made chiefly from Australian Eucalyptus and Eucalyptol combined with other germ killing antiseptics. Just breathe it through the hard rubber inhaler that comes with each outfit and relief is immediate. Used regularly for a few weeks Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mo) will cure chronic catarrh. Complete outfit $1.00 at Goodwin E. Philbrick's and leading druggists everywhere.

MI-ONA Cures Indigestion

It relieves stomach misery, soothes stomach, belching, and cures all stomach disorders or money back. Large box of tablets 50 cents. Druggists in all towns.

A TIMELY TOPIC

BY REV. A. E. WINSHIP
Of American Journal of Education

The Abuse

of Play.

MODERN young men, especially, play too much, play the wrong thing in the wrong way. Understand the play proposition and you reduce social and civic problems to the minimum.

One of the alarming evils in American life today is the pace set by the play of the rich man's sons. Pony in place of broomstick, saddle horse in place of rocking horse, automobile in place of the harnessed goat, steam launch in place of rowboat, clubhouse instead of home, theatre instead of fireside, champagne in place of lemonade, roulette in place of checkers, a painted actress in lieu of a blushing playmate. There is an impression that if a girl seeks the smiles of great wealth she would better be a chorus girl than a college girl.

What wonder that society threatens revolution when a rich man, whose son's amusement is a national scandal, tells me that his chief ambition is to teach the sons of the poor to work. "Theatres and actresses for my son, but a bench and tools for yours" does not tend to America's peace of mind.

There will never be less play with Americans, young or old. We have reduced the hours of work 20 per cent., evenings are being given over to diversion, the "week-end" has a day and a half for exhausting play, and our holidays have been doubled. So long as the chief function of adults is to find more time for play, there is no probability that the youth will accept less.

Whether youth play too much is not a practical question, since there is no way to reduce the quantity. The problem relates to quality. The churches scold, the schools nag, reformers whine, but nothing is done except through the recent evolution of the playground movement, and this is for the poor man's children and not for the rich.

NEW CASTLE

Glorious Indian Summer is Coming Soon

Knights of Pythias are Having Many Candidates

New Castle, Oct. 30. Winter by the calendar may be more than six months away. But winter was much in evidence in feeling in divers places. Our community thawed themselves out with the thought that we are yet to have St. Martin's summer. To quote Shakespeare "Expect St. Martin's summer huleypon days." It is the Indian summer, so called no one knows why. For over two centuries they called it so here, but even then it was a fancy. The Indian aborigines had no such season, no such tradition. The Englishmen who wrote books about the American colonies made note of this season and gave it its name. But no matter about the name by which it is called the fact remains that we shall enter upon a few of those marvelous days recognized as a heaven bygone sent beneficence which mark with gracious mildness the transition New England autumn to the rigors of the New England winter.

The two old faithful horses Tug and Ned of Meloon's stable were mercifully shot Thursday.

Mrs. Charles H. White, who has been restricted to her home by illness, is rapidly improving.

Mr. William Colton has closed his cottage and returned to Portsmouth. Mr. Charles B. Amazeen is recovering from a badly scalded hand, occasioned by his duties at the navy yard. New Castle sent quite a contingent of fraternal admirers to the K. of P. fair in Portsmouth this week.

It is genuinely hoped that the Queen City, now out of commission, will speedily "be on the job."

Many weird grotesque Halloween favors have been sent and received through the mail.

Mr. Frank Strong has finished his electrical duties at Fort Stark and returned to his home in Portland.

Despite the velocity of the wind, seemingly blowing sixty knots an hour, Ashton Amazeen and William Guplin took a cold plunge in the surf on Friday and reported the dip exhilaratingly invigorating.

Mrs. Sullivan H. White is visiting her daughter in Portsmouth.

Congratulations to Mrs. Clara Hall, who isn't ashamed to have everybody know that she was 52 years old on Thursday.

Wentworth lodge, K. of P., are keeping the back of the goat warm riding candidates with a contretemps. John Samberski and Frank Demar took the second and Henry Frye, the crucial third degree, after which a clam chowder was served.

Mr. William T. Meloon has a very intelligent feline and a good forgettery is a most excellent quality to use along unpleasant lines, but should have no struggle hold on other affairs. One evening of this week Mr. Meloon closed his office, forgetting to extinguish the electric lights with which his office and stable are amply equipped. The feline, with characteristic feminine intuition not unlike Sheridan, "What was done what to do, a glance told" her "both." Soling the cord (perhaps) "with a terrible oath" she stopped the cord, which like "John Brown's body" was "Marching on." It would now take an alluring inducement to separate "Bill" from that cat, and he now lets her toy with the cords for pleasant diversion.

DOVER DOINGS

Dover, Oct. 30.—The senior class of the high school entertained a large number of guests at its second social assembly which was held in the city banquet hall on Friday evening. The hall was prettily decorated for the event with class colors, flags and bunting, and presented a pretty appearance. Among the guests present were students from New Hampshire college and friends from Elliot, Rochester and South Berwick. The event came to a close at midnight, and all present spent an evening of much enjoyment. Edward W. Young furnished music for the dancing.

The funeral services of Mrs. Mary F. E. Clark were held on Friday afternoon at her late home, 10 Mayle street. Rev. William M. Balch, pastor of St. John's M. E. church, was the officiating clergyman. The remains were taken to Barrington for interment.

The funeral of Lucy, the 4 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cole, was held at St. Charles church on Friday. Rev. Fr. Tetreault being the officiating clergyman. Interment was in the new Catholic cemetery.

The death of Abiah Young occurred on Friday at his home near Durham on the Newmarket road. His age was 78 years, and besides a wife he is survived by two brothers, James A. of Lynn, and Charles F. of Nashua. Funeral services were held today with interment in Pine hill.

Dover lodge of Elks held its regular meeting on Friday evening, which was followed by a fine social session, at which the male members of the Helen Grady company, which is playing here this week, were entertained. Vocal and instrumental music was one of the features, Young and Marden furnishing several selections. Speeches were made by Chas. K. Harris and other members of the company, and a grand good time was had by all present.

Friday was the kind of a day that made the automobile owners think of filling their radiators with some non-freezing liquor.

JUST IN TIME

Some Portsmouth People May Wait Till It's Too Late

Don't wait until too late. Be sure to be in time. Just in time with Kidney Pills. Means curing the back. Before backache becomes chronic. Before serious urinary troubles set in.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do this. Here is Portsmouth testimony to prove it.

Mrs. C. W. Ham, 130 State street, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I had my first experience with Doan's Kidney Pills about three years ago. At that time I was suffering from backache and a lameness across my loins and I knew that my kidneys were disordered. I resolved to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a supply at Philbrick's Drug store. This remedy checked the backache and relieved the lameness in my loins. I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills on several occasions since then and they have always given me prompt relief. I know of many other persons who have tried them with the same good results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Fortier-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

MISSING BOY

Returns Home to Biddeford with a Queer Story

Biddeford, Oct. 30.—John Cooney, the fifteen year old boy of this city, who mysteriously disappeared Wednesday afternoon, and was believed to have been kidnapped, has returned, arriving in the city at midnight Friday.

Cooney states that he left town on the electric with his strange companion and went to West Kennebunk where they put up for the night. The man told the same story there, and, in fact at other places, that he told in this city, viz. that he was in the employ of the government and inspecting poles and wires.

Cooney states that they skipped out of West Kennebunk without paying their room rent and hotel bill and went to Wells. At Wells the man evidently got tired of his young companion and placed him aboard a freight train which he told him would take him home. Cooney went through to Portland on the freight and was sent from there to Biddeford, arriving at noon.

It has been learned that the stranger had been about the city since Tuesday. He showed up on that day at the stable of A. S. Hamilton and said that he wished to make arrangements for the care of four team horses and that he should have to have a man stay at the stable all the time the horses were there to look after them. He also said that he was in government employment as in his other stories.

Arthur Greenwood, employed at the stable, waited Tuesday until 9 o'clock at night for the arrival of the horses. The man was there all day, apparently waiting. In the morning Greenwood found the man still at the stable and sound asleep. There was no sign of any horses and in a short time the man disappeared and did not appear again. The stable people think he was simply putting up a story in order to get a place to sleep over night.

Cooney did not learn from his companion anything more than has already been given out and does not know his object in enticing boys away from home. The stranger may get picked up by the police somewhere and then more may be learned about him.

Football Games This Afternoon

Recent Deals in Neighboring Real Estate

Exeter, Oct. 30.—The Third company, coast artillery, is to resume its series of social dances which were held last winter. The first one will be held at the town hall Wednesday, Nov. 3. The committee in charge consists of Corporals Noonan, Dudley and Shannon and Privates Cilley and Harvey.

Alvin Vroom of Briarcliff Manor, N. J., has returned to this town after several years' absence. He will resume the blacksmith business.

The high school eleven will play Pickerton academy at Berry this afternoon, and a hard game is expected. Efforts are being made to arrange a game with the Dover high school here for next week, as there was some dissatisfaction over the one played there this week.

A most pleasant event, Friday afternoon was the afternoon tea given at the residence of Mrs. Walter E. Colton for the benefit of the West End mission. A large number was present. Tea, sandwiches, ice cream and cake were served during the afternoon, and ice cream cones for the children.

Exeter Academy will close the preliminary season this afternoon by a game with the M. I. T. sophomores. Glaze is not decided just what team to send against the Boston boys, but it will not be likely that any risks will be taken to injure the players, as the Andover game is only a week away. Captain Downing is still out of the play and there are grave doubts about his playing in the Andover game, as he will likely be below his usual condition, even if he recovers and is discharged from the infirmary. All of the other players who have been injured are ready for work, but they will be used carefully. Exeter should win, but the visitors may prove a surprise. Rich is doing effective coaching and the weather continues ideal for the sport. The game will be called at 3 o'clock today.

The annual harvest supper at the First church lecture room Wednesday evening was most enjoyable and successful. More than 200 partook of the chicken pie supper. The decorations were pleasing and effective, and tables for the sale of useful and fancy articles, candy and articles made by children of the Sunday school were an added attraction.

The programme for the Academy Teachers' meeting to be held at Rockland Military Academy, West Lebanon, next Friday and Saturday will include a paper by Dr. Francis K. Ball on "Shall we continue the study of Greek?" Last Friday Dr. Ball gave his lecture on Hellenic before the University club of Wesleyan University at Middletown, Conn. He will give the same lecture at the Congregational church at Lexington, Mass., Nov. 11.

Mrs. Dana W. Baker has bought the Shute house on Court street, occupied by Rev. J. E. Lary, and also the Mc Lane house on the same street, occupied by Mr. Arthur Tytus.

Gen. S. H. Gale has virtually rebuilt his recently purchased Hodge house on Union street.

As residuary legatees under the will of the late Jonathan French, of Danville, Mrs. Hannah J. French and Mrs. Dana W. Baker have sold to the Wellington piano case company of Leominster, Mass., the valuable pine growth on six tracts in Danville and Kingston, about 40 acres in total area. Mr. and Mrs. William Harrington have announced the engagement of their daughter, Ella Winslow, to Mr. Henry Lewis, Bowdoin, 1905, of Gardner, Me.

A son was born Wednesday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Nathan W. Holm and has been named Standford Coggeshall, respectively for a family name on the mother's side and that of Mr. Holm's mother.

Prof. Fletcher Durrell, of Lawrenceville school, will give the address at the Academy chapel Sunday evening.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet with Miss Lizette Rundlett, Grove street, Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock.

Dr. Dayton C. Wiggins, of Newfields, an army surgeon now stationed at Fort Leovett, Portland, Me., has been ordered to the Philippines Dec. 1.

Exeter chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet next Monday, Nov. 1, at 7.30 p. m. with Miss Harvey at the chapter room.

F. C. Keefe of Dover has been appointed principal of Brown's academy at East Kingston, which, since its opening this fall, has been under the temporary charge of Miss Martha C. Swinton of Exeter.

Programme for Matinee and Night Today.

The management of Music Hall offers for today a full two hours' show of red-hot vaudeville and high-class pictures.

The programme for today:

Picture—"Through Jealousy."

Song—Miss DeCoste, "Highland Mary."

Harry Satoy—Comedy juggler. A twenty-minute roar.

Picture—"First Airship Crossing the English Channel."

Song—Miss DeCoste, "I Have No Other Sweetheart But You."

George Donaldson—Monologist. New and original.

Picture—"The Great Jewel Robbery."

This is a big show for the price. All seats ten cents.

The temperature at midnight was but three degrees above freezing and there was every indication of its dropping into the twenties by day-light.

CLERKS DEFEAT MOULDERS

The bowling team of the clerks at the navy yard defeated the team from the moulders of the yard, at the Elks alleys on Friday evening. The clerks won all three strings and the total, and rolled a very good score, R. A. Kivran and Kelley being in line form. J. Kivran for the moulders rolled an excellent match after the first string.

The score:

BAZAAR CLOSED WITH BIG CROWD

The annual bazaar of the Damon Lodge, Knights of Pythias, for the benefit of their building fund, came to close on Friday evening, and with the largest attendance of the four nights. The crowd came early and remained until the last thing was disposed of.

There was a musical entertainment during the evening, and in addition the interest centered around the distribution of the various prizes and gifts.

The sale at all of the booths was heavy and many were closed up long before the evening was over, while what was left was auctioned off and it created the usual fun.

The attendance and receipts have been very gratifying to the members of the lodge, and they are correspondingly pleased with the results.

A NEW HAMPSHIRE GIRL

Is Missing From One of the Hotels at Marblehead

Marblehead, Oct. 30.—Miss Elizabeth Porter of Littleton, N. H., daughter of H. F. Porter of that town who has been at Hotel Leslie for the past two months, has been missing since Wednesday.

Miss Porter has been under a doctor's treatment for a nervous trouble since coming here. She was last seen in her room about 11 o'clock Wednesday night by Miss Mayd Chandler, proprietor of the hotel. Thursday morning when she did not come down to breakfast Miss Chandler went to her room and found it empty. The police have searched the water front, thinking that while temporarily deranged she may have walked to the water front and either walked or fell overboard. Nathaniel High found her coat and watch near the water front on the high bluffs at Goodwin's head, only a short distance from the hotel.

Miss Porter is about twenty-five years old, of light complexion and of slight build.

THE RIVER SEINE.

Its Contact With Paris on Its Journey to the Sea.

Inevitably in its passage through Paris the blue and silver of the Seine's robe are blurred by contact with the volumes of smoke which occasionally hang upon its surface and stained by the impurities which reach it from the streets. Though it quickly recovers its pristine blueness after the fortifications have been left behind, it is never again quite the unsophisticated river that it was before its Paris experience. Its waters are less limpid, its course more nervous, while at its meeting with the sea at Honfleur its color and character have changed completely. There the vast stretches of mud over which it rolls, mud of Paris, mud of Rouen, give to the waters of the wide Seine estuary reaching from Trouville to Le Havre the half dead mottled tones of oxidized silver. The great Parisian river dies magnificently, and no more gorgeous spectacle can be conceived than when on a fine evening the sun sets upon the Seine at its junction with the sea, where its ultimate cliffs fade away behind the summer haze into a powder of gold, and it hurls a light turquoise blue, with weird reflections of brazen yellow, old gold and cadaverous green. How different from its gentler and simpler aspect as it bubbles round the heart of Paris, warm purple and burnished gold when the sinking sun strikes it as it softly laps against the stone embankment of the Louvre or sparkling blue, dappled with milk white, beneath the silvery mists of the Paris morning!—Harper's Week-ly.

MOLL CUTPURSE.

Bold Highway Robber and the First English Woman Smoker.

Mary Frith, better known as Moll Cutpurse, was a notable figure in old time London life. She had the reputation of being the first woman to smoke tobacco in England.

The length of her days is a disputed point, but it seems certain that she attained the age of over threescore years and ten. It is asserted that constant smoking prolonged her life. A portrait representing her in the act of smoking forms the frontispiece of Middleton's comedy of the "Rouling Girl." She also figures in other plays of the period.

Mary was the daughter of a shoemaker living in the Barbican, and Malton gives 1584 as the date of her birth. She early took to wicked ways and became a noted "highwayman." Among her familiar friends were the notorious Captain Moll and Richard Hannam. She was an expert swordswoman. Single handed she robbed on Hounslow Heath General Fairfax of 200 gold Jacobuses, shooting him through the arm and killing two of his horses on which his servants were riding. For the offense she was committed to Newgate, but on paying the general £2,000 she obtained her liberty.

At one time Mary had £3,000 of her own, but by giving money to distressed cavaliers she died comparatively poor. Her death took place in July, 1659, and she was laid to rest in St. Bridget's.—Millgate Monthly.

Metheglin.

Metheglin and hyposcoria were numbered among the many good things beloved of Popsy, and the latter drank stout him in good stead at a guildhall banquet which occurred during one of his spells of plighted abstinence from wine. "This was on last mayor's day, 1621, when the diabolical noise: 'We want into the buttry and there stayed and talked and then into the hall again, and there wine was offered, and they drank. I only drinking some hyposcoria, which do not break my vow, I being, to the best of my present judgement, only a mixed compound drink and not any wine. If I am mistaken, God forgive me. But I hope and do think I am not.' He was. Hyposcoria was usually composed of spice, herbs and sugar steeped for many days in Rhineish wine, and it is not reasonable to suppose that the lord mayor's father had forgotten the wine.

"Poor Jim was always very considerate, mum."

"Considerate! Why, the brute used to beat you."

"True, mum; but, then, you see, he never hit me where the marks could be seen by the neighbors, mum."—Boston Transcript.

IMPORTANT LIQUOR QUESTION SETTLED

Judge Lummus of Lynn Decides That Liquor Shipped From An- other State May Be Delivered in a No-License City.

An important decision favorably to the wholesale liquor dealers of this city was rendered by Judge Henry T. Lummus of Lynn on Friday afternoon. The question was on the rights of express companies to deliver bottled goods about a no-license city, and it had been left to Judge Lummus for a final decision.

The fifth of Judge Lummus decision is as follows:

To sum the matter up. "Where bottles of liquor are sent from another state to a no-license city in Massachusetts, in my opinion they are to be lawfully delivered by a carrier, without regards to state laws, to the person to whom they are sent, although they cross the state line not as separate packages separately shipped, but in larger receptacles consigned to the carrier who is to deliver the separate bottles, at least where, when shipped, they are specifically appropriated to the fulfillment of orders previously obtained from the person to whom they are delivered, and the question whether the bottles would be deemed original packages within the general meaning of these words under the commerce clause is not involved."

CAPTAIN CAMPBELL DETACHED FROM DUTY

Commander Russell Probably Will Be Next Judge Advocate General.

Captain E. H. Campbell, judge advocate general of the Navy Department, has been detached from duty and ordered home to await orders.

Commander R. L. Russell, who will be designated, it is believed by the President as the next judge advocate general, was ordered to report to the Navy Department for "special duty." His assignment caused a vacancy as inspector of the Fifth light house district, with headquarters at Baltimore. This was given to Lieutenant Commander L. R. De Steiguer, who has been on the battleship Connecticut.

Captain Campbell will be detailed as navigator of the battleship Virginia, to succeed Lieutenant Commander Frank H. Brushy, who has been on the sick list for several weeks.

Secretary Meyer explained the change by stating he was anxious to have the position of judge advocate filled by a graduate in law.

TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Sagamore Lodge, No. 11, Ancient Order of United Workmen of Massachusetts, are to have a twenty-fifth anniversary of the institution of the lodge, on Friday evening, Dec. 3d, when it is expected the members and their wives will have a grand good time. The Grand Master Workman, W. J. Farrington of Amherst, Mass., Grand Foreman A. H. Clement of Manchester, N. H., Grand Recorder Charles E. Peering of Jamaica Plain, Mass., Deputy Edward S. Carrier of Dover, N. H., will all be present.

A committee consisting of Brothers Albert F. Wetherbee, Andrew K. Roberts, Charles B. Dodge, Albert C. Chamber, B. Clinton Frye, John T. Dow, Edward B. Bryant, Charles E. Davis are making arrangements for the same.

THREE HAIR SPECIALISTS

Three of the leading authorities on the scalp and hair are Woods Hutchinson, M. D., and Dr. J. C. Bayles of New York, and Dr. Lassar of Germany. Anything these celebrated writers may say is the result of long experience and thorough investigation, and largely influences the whole medical profession. It is remarkable that all three of these authorities agree absolutely that the first and greatest thing to do in treating baldness and scalp troubles is to keep the head clean by frequent washing. Dr. Lassar says that the first step in treating dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair is to keep the scalp clean by washing. This should be done daily in the beginning, and as the scalp assumes a more normal condition, once a week will be sufficient to keep the hair and scalp healthy. Woods Hutchinson, M. D., says: "The main hope of stopping the advance of baldness lies in the direction of improving the general health and vigor, while at the same time keeping the scalp and hair in a clean, antiseptic, well ventilated condition. Avoid using too strong soaps, strong alkalis, such as ammonia and soda, and too hot water, as all of these take out too much of the natural lubricant or oil of the hair, and leave it dry and harsh." Dr. J. C. Bayles says: "The only thing the layman can do to avert baldness is to keep the head clean and cool." Modern thought is all in the direction of cleanliness, as the opinions of these three eminent men go to show. The day of fake tonics, renewers, growers and invigorators is close at hand. The public has been defrauded so long that nothing but worthy things will find a sale. Falling hair, itching scalp and dandruff cannot be cured by fakes and frauds. The only sure way to benefit the hair and scalp is to keep them clean and free from dust and disease germs. For this purpose Ritz's Head Wash, the new scientific preparation is most highly recommended because it is made of Refined Soap, White of Eggs, Cocoa Butter, Oil of Almonds, and Balsam of Peru. Ask your doctor about it.

NO KIDNEY TROUBLE OR BLADDER MISERY

A Few Doses Overcome any Kidney Disorder and End Backache

The most effective and harmless way to cure backache and regulate out of order kidneys or end bladder trouble, is to take several doses of Pape's Diuretic.

You will distinctly feel that your kidneys and urinary organs are being cleaned, healed and vitalized, and all the miserable symptoms, such as backache, headache, nervousness, rheumatism and darting pains, inflamed or swollen eyelids, irritability, sleeplessness, or suppressed, painful or frequent urination (especially at night) and other distress, leaving after the first few doses.

The moment you suspect any kidney or urinary disorder, or rheumatism, begin taking this harmless preparation as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a fifty-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic, which any druggist can supply.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pape, Thompson and Pape, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible "medicine" concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Don't be miserable or worried another moment with a lame back or clogged, inactive kidneys or bladder misery. All this goes after you start taking Pape's Diuretic, and in a few days you feel and know that your kidneys, liver and urinary system are healthy, clean and normal, and all danger passed.

Accept only Pape's Diuretic—fifty-cent treatment—from any drug store—anywhere in the world.

THE RADCLIFFE FIRE

The hotel Radcliffe at Hampton Beach was entirely destroyed by fire Friday afternoon, and in the gale of wind that was blowing it was a wonder that there was not a far greater fire loss. Fortunately the wind happened to be in the one direction favorable to the fire-fighters and the fire was confined to that one hotel.

The building is a four-story frame structure, located about midway on the beach and on the ocean boulevard. It was owned by D. C. Rhodes of South Framingham and managed last year by F. C. Carr of Haverhill.

The hotel has been closed since the middle of September, but Mr. Carr and his wife and children have been staying at the hotel while he was supervising certain repairs and alterations.

Shortly after ten o'clock Friday morning he discovered smoke coming from the partition on the second floor, and he saw at a glance that it had considerable headway. He summoned help and an alarm was sounded, calling out the beach fire department, and although handicapped by the shortage of hose, they did great work.

By this time the flames had broken through the roof, and fanned by the gale that prevailed, the entire structure was a mass of flames the crowd being unable to secure only such things as were in the lower part of the house.

Fortunately the gale was from the northwest and the flames and mass of fire brands were driven into the sea. The hotel is surrounded on three sides by cottages, and the beach fire department, with the aid of several streams of water, kept these wet down so that they were saved, although a shift of the wind when the fire was at its height would have swept all the buildings in the path.

John Southwick, a Hampton fireman, while working on a ladder on the oil of the hotel, fell and was badly injured about the back and head.

Shortly before twelve o'clock the wind hauled somewhat, and it was feared that at any time it might shift, and a call was sent out for assistance from this city and Exeter.

The Col. Sise engine company, with a hose wagon, was sent out from this city, but when they arrived the hotel was in ruins, but they assisted in wetting down the ruins to prevent trouble should the wind shift.

The hotel had about seventy-five rooms and it was built about thirty years ago and was valued at about $15,000, but the amount of insurance carried is unknown.

The origin of the fire is said to be a defect in the chimney.

LOVE FOR TITLES.

The Way the Average German Burger Lengthens His Name.

The average German burger's love of titles is a source of never ending fun to the rest of the German population and of continual ridicule to the rest of the world. Any one caring to see how far some people of the future will go in this direction need only have a look at a hotel register at a summer resort. He will see added to the name of the guest the most curious combinations of appellations drawn together to form a title. He will, for instance, find:

A "Technischen Provinzialfeuerwehrinspektor" (a technical provincial fire insurance inspector).

A "Geheimen Expedierenden Sekretar im Ministerium der Offentlichen Arbeiten" (meaning a special sort of secretary at the ministry of public works).

A—continue in English as well as possible—"cashier president of the Royal Saxon railway," a "royal railroad subsecretary."

The ladies are not better. "Frau Verwittwetoberstercontrolleurin" is quite usual and means "Mrs. Widowed Superior Collector." Then there are the "Mrs. Secretary and Calculator" and "Mrs. Widowed General Agent."

The best of all, however, is a title which a lady entered in the register of a hotel at which I recently stayed. It read, "Mrs. Prison Warden and Children."

TAMING A BIRD.

Teaching a Feathered Pet to Trust You Is Not Difficult.

No creature is more jealous or sensitive than a bird. It is easy, however, to win the heart of almost any bird, and that without starving him or making him think he has mastered you. Simply talk to him a good deal.

Place his cage near you on your desk or work table, and retain his choicest dainties to give to him with your own fingers. Let him know that he can never have that particular thing unless he takes it from you, and he will soon learn, if you are patient and do not disconcert him by fixing your eyes upon him.

After this he will more readily take it from your lips, and then when you let him out of his cage, after the first excitement is over, he will come to you, especially if you have a call to which you have accustomed him, and accept the dainties from your white glove.

As soon as he becomes really convinced that you will not hurt him or try to catch him or interfere in any way with his liberty he will give way to his boundless curiosity about you. He will pull your hair, pick at your eyes and give you as much of his company as you desire.—New York Press.

A Lost Opportunity.

The father of the late Benoit Constant Coquelin, the great French actor, was a baker, and young Coquelin was brought up to the trade. At thirteen, a writer in Le Figaro says, he manifested an irresistible inclination toward the stage, an inclination which his father steadfastly strove to repress.

"Don't devote so much time to those dramas," his father used to say. "You have learned a good trade, the business is running well, and you shall be my successor."

A number of years after, Constant had made his way into general favor, his father, who took pride in his boy's success, but could never quite get over the feeling that Constant should have been a baker, was congratulated upon his son's eminence.

"I remember," said the old man, "that Constant was a good baker. He would have gone far in the trade."

Blowing Up the Locks.

Would it be easy to blow up and destroy a lock canal by the malicious use of dynamite or other high explosive? The question has been debated much in connection with the Panama canal.

The Engineering News calls attention to the fact that an attempt made in 1900 to wreck the Welland canal in this way produced surprisingly small results. After two weeks' examination the two men concerned selected lock 24, and each lowered a satchel containing dynamite and a fuse to the water behind the gate at each end of the lock. Both charges were exploded, but the dynamite failed to carry away the gates. Although the explosives blew a hole about a foot in diameter through each gate and loosened the hinges, the gates remained in position, holding back the water.

In the Regular Establishment.

"Yes," said the fresh young lieutenant, "the army has fallen on evil days."

The sophisticated captain merely gasped.

"Why," the P. T. L. went on, "look at the names on this roll—Private Entrance, Corporal Punishment, Major Domo, General Housework. What kind of a—"

But just then the S. C. shied a—well, a ginger ale bottle at the feeling offender.—Lippincott's.

Explained.

"You say the defendant pulled the plaintiff's hair. Now, how could the defendant, who is an unusually short man, reach the plaintiff's hair, the plaintiff being fully six feet tall?"

"Why, you see, your honor, the plaintiff was butting him at the time."

—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Evidently a Connoisseur.

"Bliggins is a connoisseur in cigars."

"He must be. Otherwise he might make an occasional mistake and give away a good one."—Washington Star.

A bold onset is half the battle—Garfield.

AT NAVY YARD

Keep Kangaroo on Berth Deck

The Hist to Sail at Ten O'clock Monday

Another Call for Mechanics and Laborers

The Officers Who Will Command the Marine Battalion

Confined to the Berth Deck
The kangaroo of the Wisconsin who made a cross country run a week ago and led a searching party a merry chase in York country, is now under guard on the berth deck of the vessel ready at any time to beat it for another hike to the woods.

Men Who Will Have Charge of Battalion

The following officers have been ordered to navy yard, Philadelphia, for duty with Panama Battalion: Capt. J. C. Breckinridge, from U. S. S. Minnesota; Capt. R. M. Gilson from marine barracks, Naval Academy, Annapolis; Capt. William H. Parker, from marine barracks, navy yard, Portsmouth, N. H.; Capt. H. E. Hughes, from U. S. S. Hancock; 1st Lieut. E. H. Conger, from marine barracks, navy yard, New York; 1st Lieut. W. W. Buckley, from marine barracks, navy yard, Norfolk; and 1st Lieut. E. S. Willing, from U. S. S. Lancaster.

Twenty-one More Needed
The latest call for workmen requires five all around machinists, two boilermaker's helpers, four chipers and calkers, one right hand riveter, two holders on, four general helpers, three drillers.

Brooklyn Dry Dock
A special dispatch to the Herald from Washington this afternoon states that Cabot and Hollins of Boston at $1,389,000 are the lowest bidders for the construction of a new dry dock at Brooklyn navy yard.

Comes Back in His Old Home
Charles Perry, a well known Kittery druggist now at the Brooklyn navy yard has been detached and ordered to this station for duty.

Purchased Land in Alberta
George Nay, a former employee of the steam engineering department, has, with his brother, Joseph Nay or West Milan, N. H., purchased two square miles of land in the province of Alberta which they will cultivate and will shortly leave to take up the work.

Latest from the North Dakota
The North Dakota will come out of Charlestown navy yard dry dock at ten o'clock on Sunday morning. Is it the Paducah or the Dubuque? The Reid was delivered to the government by the vessel's contractors on Oct. 27, at the navy yard, Boston, Mass. The Flusser has been ordered placed in commission at the navy yard, Boston, Mass. The Dubuque, at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, Oct. 27, has been ordered to proceed.

Fire Quarters This Forenoon
Fire quarters were sounded for box 22 at the administration building this forenoon and everything connected with the yard department worked well in the trial.

Ordered to Naval Prison
Second Lieut. John Marston, is detached from the marine barracks, navy yard, Boston, and ordered to duty at naval prison here.

Hist to Go Monday
The gunboat Hist at this yard since August is expected to sail on Monday. After going into New York she will proceed to southern waters for survey duty.

The List Running Low
The list of boilermakers is nearly shy of names. As there is promise of much work for mechanics of this trade they would do well to register for same.

Examination for Pay Service
There will be an examination in Washington beginning Jan. 3 for candidates for appointment to the pay corps of the navy. For this examination candidates will be designated by the secretary of the navy or by the president. There are at this time three vacancies caused by the retirement of Pay Dir. James A. King of this city, the resignation of Paymaster J. D. Barber and Asst. Paymaster Thomas R. LeCompte.

2791 KILLED ON RAILROADS

Washington, Oct. 30.—A decrease in the number of casualties on American railroads for the year ending June 30, 1909, is shown by a report issued on Friday by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

During the year 2791 persons were killed and 63,920 were injured on railroads, as against 3764 killed and 68,889 injured during the previous fiscal year.

This was a decrease of 873 killed and 5669 injured. The report shows that the number of employees killed in coupling and uncoupling cars and engines was 32 percent less than during the fiscal year of 1908.

BUTTON BUSTERS

All the New Order Lacks is a Chief Executioner

A new order known as the Button-Busters was organized on Friday evening at Odd Fellows hall with the following officers:

King, Morris Varrell.
Chief Justice, C. H. Kehoe.
Conductor, John Yeaton.
Lord Chancellor, Fred S. Welber.
Chief Physician, Gardner D. Whitham.

Inside Sentinel, John Shaw.

Following the degree work a fine banquet was served and several navy men assisted in the work of the new organization.

JACK WENDELL

Professional Debut at the New Theatre on Nov. 7

Jack Wendell of Portsmouth and New York, who pleased a large audience at Music Hall the past summer with his work before the footlights, and who recently adopted the work professionally, will make his debut in New York city on November 8 at the New Theatre on Sixty-sixth street and Broadway.

That his success is already assured is the opinion of his Portsmouth friends, who will not be satisfied until his company appears in this city, where he is certain to be greeted by the largest house in many years.

SEALED VERDICT

To Be Opened When Court Is Resumed on Monday

In superior court on Friday before Judge Chamberlain and a jury, the case of Edward E. Kent of Londonderry against Alvin W. Sanders of Pittsfield was taken up. This is an action to recover a balance due the plaintiff as he alleges in a co-partnership which existed for three years in a mercantile business in Pittsfield. The plaintiff alleges that as his share of the profits, he was to $600 a year, although he was to devote no time to the business. The defence is a general denial.

John C. Crawford of Derry appeared for the plaintiff, and S. A. Lane of Pittsfield for the defendant. The case went to the jury at 1:30 o'clock on Friday afternoon. After being out an hour they returned a sealed verdict. Judge Chamberlain having left for home on the two o'clock train.

The verdict will be opened when the court sessions are resumed on Monday afternoon.

Permit me to express my endorsement of the wonderful Autopiano purchased from you some time ago. The tone and durability are most commendable. The interior player is almost human in its touch, and very simple to operate, and enables any of the men who are unable to play manually, to render the most difficult compositions in an artistic manner. I cannot speak too highly of the really wonderful and artistic AUTOPIANO, and to my mind it far surpasses any other similar instrument.

Our Idea in Advertising

Is not so much to sell a Suit or Overcoat as it is to get a customer. There is a big difference between selling a man a suit and getting him for a regular customer.

But our object is to sell a man such a good suit the first time that he comes back for another one next season, and keeps coming back until he gets the habit of coming—a habit that he finds too good to break.

There are many things about our Suits and Overcoats that we could tell you, but long years of experience tells us, that a satisfied customer is one of the best advertisements a Tailor can have.

Let us make you a Suit or Overcoat this season.

CITY BRIEFS

No police court today.
Not much left of 1909 calendar.
Superior court has adjourned until Monday.
The Warwick club are planning for a lively winter.
The Kildare Athletic club is preparing for an indoor meet.
Quite choppy and an extra high tide in the river today.
There were four lodgers at the police station last night.
Forty-four degrees above zero at two o'clock this afternoon.
There is considerable interest here in the New York election.
Smoke the Warwick 10c cigar, Ed. Brown manufacturer, 33 Market St.
Have your shoes repaired at John Mott's, corner Fleet and Porter Sts.
Many from this city went to Hampton Beach on Friday to see the fire.
Drivers of city ash carts had a job of their lives collecting rubbish Friday.
The best way for you to find out what is going on in the city is to read the Herald.
Do not drop the matter of an annual fair for Portsmouth. Keep pushing it along.
The Navy League Journal of October, issued in the interest of navy yard employees, is certainly a specimen of good work in every way.

TWO MORE TROTTERS

Creek Horsemen Can Now Get Ready for a Finish

It's wonderful where those sports at the Creek dig up their fast horses and how they find time to train them.
A sensation is on in that district caused by one of the numerous horsemen hunting around for something to beat out Vino, Hardtack, Woodshed and Home Stretch and other stars on the turf.
Everybody is anxious to learn what he has got and what he expects to do with them. They will know soon enough when Billy brings out his latest known as "Razor Strap" and "Bath Sponge."

THE HERALD HEARS

That the names of those fast horses at the west end should bring fame to the owners of these animals.

That a great amount of interest is manifested in this city in the coming elections in Massachusetts and New York city.

That a well known Kittery woman is working for a sailors' home in this city.

That the marine guard under Major Leonard at the naval prison is the finest drilled body of men in the service.

That "Tige," the big Newfoundland dog owned by Deputy Sheriff Shaw and trained by his young son, certainly has some class when he is harassed up for a run in his cart.

That Albert Stringer and Richard Pray, injured in the railroad accident in the Portsmouth yard on May 17 are slowly recovering from their hurts.

That one of the Portsmouth young men, who recently went from here to Cuba to perform duty with the government survey crew of the U. S. S. Hist, found it exceedingly hard to part from his sweetheart and expressed his feelings most touchingly to his comrades as the gang got the glad hand in the depot last week.

That there will be no investigation as to the matter of escapes at the naval prison, but something else of importance is on.

That the Portsmouth Brewing company is planning to make improvements at the cooper shop and machine shop of the plant.

That the town of Kittery cannot get the electric cable across the river for lighting purposes too soon.

That Frank Obrey, a cooper at the Hildreth Brewing company, who has figured many times in rescuing children from drowning in the pond near the plant, recently added another dead of the kind to his list, in saving a child living nearly from a watery grave.

That many Portsmouth people are hoping that Jack Wendell will later appear here in his stage work.

That this October session of superior court will be the shortest in many years.

That the inside electrical apparatus which operates the block signals in the railroad yard, is certainly something of interest for the electrical mechanic to put his eye on.

That the guard who performs patrol duty around the naval prison under the new orders will earn his money from Uncle Sam this winter.

That the Catholic Union, which will be a year old next month, have nominated officers for the year of 1910.

That a snow storm with the wind of Friday would have caused trouble all right.

That the Atlantic Shore Line ferry now takes all its coal and water on the other side of the river.

That Charles Staples, father of Dr. W. F. Staples, though past the seventy mark in age, is one of the finest boatmen that handles the bar on the Piscataqua today.

That the new rector to be appointed for the St. John's Episcopal church to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rev. H. E. Hovey, may come from the west.

TAFT AT NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, La. Oct. 30.—President Taft arrived at ten o'clock this morning. The roar of guns of the fleet announced his arrival.
